Extending Daytime Play into Night

Thanks to Rain Drop's integrated LED lighting of its surface sprays and unique lights that are available on other products, the fun doesn't have to stop when the sun goes down.
