Grounds For Play[®]

Building Better Environmentally-Friendly Play Environments

Children are more THAN JUST LITTLE BODIES.

They have developing minds, growing personalities, and impressionable spirits. That's why at Grounds For Play we seek to encourage, inspire, and empower children through play. Our mission is to design and build outdoor play environments for children of all ages that are safe, environmentally-focused, and encourage a variety of skill development.

We believe in well-rounded environments.

We are built on an understanding of child development. This allows us to design and build playgrounds that are centered around your program’s objectives — going beyond just providing physical play. We also focus on addressing comprehensive issues and age-specific needs.

1

Physical Play

Physical play strengthens the body, develops gross motor skills, and allows for learning opportunities in adaptability, flexibility, and resilience.

2

Dramatic Play

Dramatic play allows children to act out everyday scenes to make sense of their surroundings. It also encourages communication, sharing, creativity, and emotional development.

3

Music & Art Play

Children access their playfulness, creativity, and innovative spirits when practicing music and art, in addition to developing fine motor skills.

4

Nature & Outdoor Classroom

Being outside gives children the opportunity to explore and understand nature, while the outdoor classroom allows children to explore topics such as math and science.

Why choose recycled plastic?

Once you see the benefits, you'll understand why recycled plastic posts and decking for playgrounds are becoming more and more popular for schools, parks, housing communities, and child cares.

Look of wood without the maintenance — no splinters or rotting

Made from non-toxic and environmentally-friendly materials

Decks and posts do not rust or flake

Equally as strong as wood or steel playgrounds

Did you know?

Our playgrounds are made from 95% reclaimed post-consumer plastic products such as milk jugs!

Every pound of recycled plastic lumber equates to 8 recycled milk containers. Additionally, the posts and decking can be recycled at the end of their life.

Take a look at the environmental benefits of our plastic posts and decks.

Reduce Air & Water Pollutants Our plastic lumber doesn't need to be chemically treated.

Reduce Deforestation Our lumber eliminates the need for deforestation — saving trees that wildlife depend on.

Certified Green Posts & Decks Our supplier has the Recycled Content Certification by GreenCircle. This certification qualifies their compliance with all Federal Trade Commission (FTC) 2012 Green Guidelines. Our posts and decks also meet criteria for the USGBC LEED requirements.

Turn the page to see how our playgrounds hold up in coastal environments.

Playgrounds built for coastal environments.

Marine borers, salt spray, UV rays, and unwanted playground rust beware. Our playgrounds are the perfect match for you.

Built-In Resistance Our posts and decks resist marine borers and salt spray.

UV Additives Most of our components, as well as our shade fabric, either have UV additives or are UV stabilized to resist fading against that hot coastal sun.

Extra Protection Options Our metal components can have an extra-protection coating to protect against salt spray and the coastal air.

Playground Design Ideas

Why choose recycled plastic? We're durable, low maintenance, and environmentally friendly — everything you're looking for in a playground.

Our recycled plastic posts and decks are high-performance and durable. They don't splinter, chip, rust, or fade. What's more, they can be easily maintained with soap and water and a light pressure wash to keep your playground looking new.
